

Let the Love in Your Heart Shine

A love song by Peter Brunette

1. In the still of the night,
While the moon is big and bright,
Won't you be my valentine?
In the still of the night,
Won't you come and hold me tight?
Let the love in your heart shine.
I may not be dark and handsome,
I may not be debonair,
But if you will only say that you'll be mine,
In the still of the night
I will be your heart's delight.
Won't you be my valentine?

2. In the still of the night,
While the moon is big and bright,
Won't you be my clinging vine?
In the still of the night,
Chase my troubles out of sight!
Let the love in your heart shine.
I may not have pearls and rubies,
I may not have fancy things,
But if you will only say that you'll be mine,
In the still of the night
I will be your heart's delight.
Won't you be my valentine?

ENDING: Won't you be my valentine?

Let the love in your heart shine.
